TEC and Cadsoft Donating up to $200,000 of Software to SkillsUSA Winners

Also, TEC Unveils First Truly Budget-Friendly "All-In-One, Buy-and-Own" Architectural and Mechanical CAD/CAM Packages for Nation's Schools: TEC CAD Institute

CONCORD, NH, June 15 -- Demonstrating its unwavering focus on supporting S.T.E.M Education and cultivating the next generation of technical-engineers, Technology Education Concepts (TEC) – the Nation's leading provider of 3D Engineering products and resources to the Education industry – today announced that TEC and Cadsoft will be donating up to $200,000 worth of Cadsoft's market-leading Envisioneer™ Architectural-design software to the Nation's best Secondary and Post-Secondary Tech-Ed Student participants of the Architectural Drafting Competition at SkillsUSA Championships at the SkillsUSA National Leadership and Skills Conference (NLSC) June 21-25, 2010 in Kansas City, MO.

* TEC will be at Booths # 350-351 and showcasing Envisioneer's powerful tools for Interior Design, Architecture, Building Trades, and Landscape Design at the SkillsUSA University session, "Transform your Architectural Design Classroom," Wednesday, June 23, 2010. Faculty members attending will receive a FREE copy of Envisioneer software. Also, visitors to the Booths will be able to witness first-hand the Nation's only STEM-defined 3D-printer, the RapManUSA, for only $1,495, www.RapManUSA.com.

"The donation of Cadsoft's industry-leading Envisioneer software to SkillsUSA's best and brightest is a terrific way for us to support and strengthen the Nation's Construction future," said Brad Finck, Vice President of Cadsoft Corporation. "Providing the next generation of architectural designers and builders with access to best-in-class technologies like Envisioneer helps us ensure that the United States will continue to be globally competitive on a number of fronts."
